

Emanuel, 5, Guatemala

Emanuel

Five-year-old Emanuel in Guatemala was so frail due to severe malnutrition that he had to be admitted to a nutrition center in his community. His mother, Mirna did the best she could to feed Emanuel, but it wasn't enough.

Mirna's only source of income is selling tortillas and washing clothes for neighbors in her community. It's a struggle to earn enough to consistently provide the support her family needs to be healthy.

Mirna knows too well what having proper nutrition means for Emanuel and her other children and the important role it plays in creating a better future for her children.

Your loving gift to Food For The Poor provides children like Emanuel with food to combat malnutrition.
