

Morena, 1, El Salvador

Morena

Good health is something all parents want for their children, and Morena's mother, Ana, is no different. However, Morena is constantly riddled with parasites from drinking the only water her mother can find in their small community in El Salvador.

This sweet girl is prone to stomach problems from the parasites and Ana must rely on medicine to treat her daughter. The shack they call home is also a health hazard. Not only does it leak, causing Morena and her siblings to get cold and wet, but the roof once blew away during a strong storm, leaving them without any protection.

Your loving gift to Food For The Poor provides Morena, and children like her, with food and lifesaving medicine.
