Maceline

Four-year-old Maceline in Haiti has lived with the pain of hunger most of her young life. She is malnourished, her little body in desperate need of sustenance.

Her mother, Viergemente, does the best she can, but with no stable income, she finds it difficult to provide the food and medical attention her daughter needs to fight off illness. Some days, there is no food, putting Maceline at greater risk of severe malnutrition or worse.

Your gifts to Food For The Poor provide precious little ones like Maceline access to food and medicine that they so desperately need.
